

over and over again and carry around over your heart has always seemed to me to be one of the greatest joys of being loved. And I have known men to whom the words of love come haltingly if they had to speak them who could write the most wonderful letters. I envied the women to whom they were sent.

I don't believe I ever got a real love letter in my life, but I know if Bill Tenney has begun his second love-making by letters his wife is nearly won.

IMPORTANT WAR NEWS

Paris.—After a tenacious struggle lasting for several days French troops have recaptured principal height at Hartmannswellerkopf, in Alsace.

Germans are again bombarding Arras at long range. Shells of all calibres fell into city yesterday, causing fires at several spots.

London.—While two Slav armies have pressed forward successfully to invade Hungary, the Russian forces of General Ivanhoff have been beaten back from the Bukowina capital of Czernowitz.

Vienna, via Berlin Wireless.—Government order issued today regulates consumption of bread, flour and all foodstuffs. Bread tickets will be issued.

Berlin.—German war office admitted Russians have attempted new general offensive movement, aiming at another invasion of East Prussia. The Slav forward movement, however, has been broken and rolled back, according to a semi-official statement.

Russians have delivered several violent attacks near Langsargen, just inside the Prussian border near Tilsit, against the German lines east of Augustow and along the Vistula.

French last night occupied the top of Hartmannswellerkopf, in Alsace, but edge of the height is still occupied by German troops.

Paris.—German aviator bombarded town of Willer, northwest of Thann, in Alsace, yesterday. One bomb burst in street killing children.

Berlin.—French aviators bombarded Straseburg and villages in Alsace without doing any military damage, but killed 11 French civilians and wounded 22 others. Northwest of Arras a French aviator was forced to land inside German lines. German aviators also active. Several taubes flew over Calais dropping several bombs.

London.—8 additional warships have joined allied fleet for grand assault on the Dardenelles forts in co-operation with British and French land forces.

SCHOOL BOARD PROBES WAGES

A conference on finances, the result of which was not made public, was held by the committee of efficiency and expenditure of the board of education. The ratio of salaries to jobs was the probable topic.

The salary of Richard Folsom, general counsel for the board, who receives $7,500 and $2,300 for assistants, and whose duties are very light, was supposed to have been taken under advisement.

The buildings and grounds committee voted repairs for two schools, penny lunch equipments for ten, and installed shower baths in the Hayes school.
